BRADY CORBET

BOOK: The Christmas Confection

BORN: Hardman, OR

CURRENTLY RESIDES: Hardman

FULL NAME: Fred Joseph Decker

AGE: 21

HEIGHT: 6'3"

HAIR COLOR: Light brown hair

EYE COLOR: Summer-sky blue

PHYSICAL DETAILS: Her eagerness to see him couldn't have anything to do with his wide shoulders or tall, muscular physique. Why, she'd barely made note of his eyes, glimmering bright blue like a cloudless summer sky. It certainly couldn't be attributed to his thick, honey brown hair falling in tousled waves along his forehead. Fred Decker possessed one of the most kissable sets of lips she'd ever seen on a man.

OCCUPATION: Jack-of-all-trades, recently purchased a farm, hopes to raise cattle.

PARENTS: The outlaw Joe Decker and Mildred Baker Decker.

HOBBIES: Learning skills he doesn't already know.

ATTITUDE OR BEHAVIORS: Fred is haunted by his past, feels responsible for the horrible things his father did and the nasty way his mother treated many people in town. He may laugh and joke with folks, but feels unworthy of friendships, affection, or love.

FAVORITE FOODS: Oatmeal cookies from the bakery.

OTHER TIDBITS: It hadn't escaped her notice he didn't like to sit so he couldn't see the door. She wondered what had made him so cautious, so nervous of being caught unawares. A plethora of rumors circulated amongst the gossips in town about the Decker family, but Elsa ignored them.
